

ASIEN 23 (April 1987)

Abstract

Israel's technical assistance to Cambodia 1965-1975

Shimon Avimor

A critical assessment of Israel's technical assistance to Cambodia. "Agricultural Experimental Centre for the Prek Thnot Region", the most successful Israeli project in Cambodia. The granting of scholarships to qualified Cambodians for study or for training in Israel as an integral part of the Israeli technical assistance programme. However, the author believes, from a purely political viewpoint, Israel's policy of technical assistance to Cambodia must be considered a painful failure and a bitter disappointment for Israel.