

ASIEN 24 (Juli 1987)

Abstract

The present status and prospects of nuclear power generation in Japan

A. Y. Shoda

The article presents an outline of nuclear power generation in Japan. Its high dependence on oil and high percentage of imported energy sources, especially oil. The structure of the research and development and industrial organisation for nuclear power in Japan. Nuclear power regulation and status of nuclear power in this country.